"SNOW BELT" HALTS NEWBERRY TRIAL; LOCALS ON STAND

Grand Rapids, Feb. 17.—The "snow belt" of Michigan, hit by a blizzard yesterday and last night, again disrupted the prosecution program in the Newberry election conspiracy trial today. A dozen witnesses reported themselves on winter-ruined roads and local witnesses were substituted.

Although Edward Ridley, department of justice agent, was still undergoing cross-examination when court adjourned yesterday, the first witness was Kenneth C. Throckmorton, testified he was at the Great Lakes naval training station in 1918 and got a letter from William E. Rice, a Grand Rapids printer, asking him to meet Rice at the Briggs House, Chicago. The youth swore Ridley gave him some money and asked him to get signatures at the naval training station.

Throckmorton identified a "person" he met in the Great Lakes Bulletin asking Michigan men to look him up at the radio school, that he had "money of interest." Michigan men did look him up and signed the petitions and Throckmorton mailed them back to Grand Rapids. The witness identified one of the petitions.

WILSON FEELS O. K.; GRAYSON REFUTES RUMOR OF RELAPSE

Washington, Feb. 17.—President Wilson continues to show improvement and was up early today shaving himself and going about his usual Grand Rapids. Throckmorton, a physician, said Dr. Grayson's statement was prompted by published reports that the president had relapsed last night and that Dr. Francis X. Dercum, a Philadelphia specialist, had been hurriedly summoned to the White House for a midnight conference.

Dr. Grayson said he had not been in communication with Dr. Dercum since Saturday when the latter visited the White House and found the president making steady progress.

The president's condition, probably not met this week, Dr. Grayson said, but he added that if the president desired to call on his physician, he would not object.

ELROY DEATHS DUE TO POISONED RED WINE

LaCrosse, Feb. 17.—Raymond Hart, aged 27, and Mrs. Nellie Ward, 37, died at Elroy after attending a house party here last night. The cause of death was attributed to a mixture of home made wine and wood alcohol, in the opinion of District Attorney Clinton Price, Maunula and Dr. Frank H. Ferguson, following an investigation today. Misses Mabel and Celia Larson, who were stricken after the party, are said to be improving slowly. Frank Borchard, a baggage man on the Northwestern road, is ill at his home in Chicago, but nearly recovered. Federal authorities will make an inquiry in the case to ascertain the source of the wood alcohol, and it is expected that Borchard will be arrested, charged with bringing the poisoned red wine to the party.

The Crisis Is Reached

SENATOR DECLARES TREATY FRONT IS VITALLY CHANGED

"JUDGE PEACE BY LIGHT OF HISTORY" IS APPEAL OF THOMAS, DEMOCRAT.

TERMS BINDING

Believed Allies Intended to Stand by Armistice Agreement.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Feb. 17.—The senate today, by a vote of 72 to 20, rejecting the treaty of peace with Germany by the light of history and test it by the principles of international justice. Senator Thomas, democrat, declared today in the senate that the document was an official disregard by the United States and the allies of the general peace terms which Germany was induced to accept when she signed the armistice.

Reviewing the many speeches of President Wilson during the war and notes to Germany just prior to the armistice, Senator Thomas said that the president had intended to treat Germany fairly, and did not justify the reparations and territorial features of the treaty as finally drawn up.

Germany Relied on Covenant. "The armistice became a fact," he said, "only because a contract, a covenant, had been made mutually binding upon the United States and its allies, to observe in making the peace principles which the president had in mind and which the allies, in accepting them, had made significant by modifying in two points, the freedom of the seas and the necessity for indemnity from Germany for damage done by her during the war by sea or land and from the air."

The statement of the allies unquestionably intended to stand by the agreement. Unfortunately, the British premier appealed to the country as they were emerging from a conflict which had shaken the British empire to its foundations and the mark of death on the door of every family in the land. The population was moved by a demand for revenge for the loss of life and property, and the need for the storm. The election meant virtual repudiation of the agreement.

"France smarted under the same afflictions and reacted in the same fashion. When the president came to the White House, he found the allies the atmosphere was charged with every feeling and passion except that for justice."

He said, "The changed front, he said, was the taking of the Saar basin from Germany."

Wilson continues to show improvement and was up early today shaving himself and going about his usual Grand Rapids. Throckmorton, a physician, said Dr. Grayson's statement was prompted by published reports that the president had relapsed last night and that Dr. Francis X. Dercum, a Philadelphia specialist, had been hurriedly summoned to the White House for a midnight conference.

PAPER COMPANY BUYS RAIL RIGHT OF WAY

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, Feb. 17.—The Peshigo Pulp and Paper company has purchased of John March, owner of the Wisconsin and Michigan railway, the right of way for a line from Peshigo to Bagley Junction, six miles, and the right of way of the same line from Peshigo to Bagley Junction, six miles, and the terminal facilities. The rails on both rights of way were torn up several years ago.

The Peshigo Pulp and Paper company, which has just completed a large tissue paper mill at Peshigo, is to build a sulphate mill at Peshigo. The rails will be re-laid to Bagley Junction, where the company will develop Potomac Rapids. The line to Bagley Junction will give the new company special transportation facilities to the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad over which pulp wood will be hauled from upper Michigan and Canada.

DARDANELLES TO BE INTERNATIONALIZED

(By Associated Press.)

Appeal That Project Is Supreme Test for Janesville Reiterated.

Simultaneously with the announcement today that J. A. Craig, Samson Tractor company president, has been elected president of the board of directors of the new Janesville Hotel company came the news that the drive for $400,000 in subscriptions passed the $300,000 mark.

The announcement followed the initial meeting of the new directors held in M. G. Jeffris' office this morning, at which time other officers of the new hotel company were elected as follows:

In accepting a position as a director, Mr. Craig said he would not only have the understanding that the entire $400,000 be subscribed within the next three or four days at the latest.

In what was probably the most earnest speech ever made before a Janesville audience, Mr. Craig last night drove home to 12 stockholders who were present at the meeting, the policy of the General Motors corporation in regard to the development of the Samson plant in Janesville. He pointed out the attitude of the city; that if the city shows signs of advancement there will be no limit upon the expansion of the tractor plant.

(By Associated Press.)
London, Feb. 17.—Virtually the entire male population of the village of Larrans, Spain, was in a state of "helpless intoxication" for three days recently, the fishing industry and all other work in the village had stopped, according to a Madrid dispatch.

"Owing to the stormy weather," it says, "a number of expert spirits laden on incoming vessels had been washed overboard. The cases were picked up by fishermen, small tradesmen and mechanics who assembled in a building and consumed dozens of bottles of the spirits. The orgy lasted for six hours at the end of which time the whole village was found lying in huddled heaps about the floor in an unconscious condition."

A detachment of marines was dispatched to the building and the people were shovelled like coal into six large carts and conveyed to the barracks. The value of the liquor consumed is estimated at $1,500. There are 540 patients ranging from 16 to 70 years of age, in the hospital.

FUTURE STATUS HANGS ON WORD OF SUPREME COUNCIL

ANGLO-AMERICAN RELATIONS FOR GENERATION DEPEND ON ANSWER.

U. S. S. EXPLAINS

"Memorandum" Said It Might Be Necessary to Withdraw Treaty.

(By Associated Press)

London, Feb. 17.—The allied supreme council has completed the draft of its answer to President Wilson's "Adriatic memorandum" and will hand it to Ambassador Davis tonight for transmission to Washington. The council declined today to make public President Wilson's communication or its reply.

It is impossible to emphasize the importance and gravity of the results which may follow the council's reply to President Wilson's note, says the Mail.

"Anglo-American relations for a generation may well depend upon the terms of the reply," the newspaper continues.

Reiterating its past condemnation of the peace treaty, the Herald, labor organ, interprets decisions concerning the surrender of former Emperor William, extradition of German accused of war crimes, and the future status of Constantinople as a realization of the "folly" of the authors of the treaty.

Fears Further Dissension. Deep anxiety lest the allies send President Wilson a reply containing further cause for dissension is expressed by the Times. "Because in the actual mood they are now in, the American people might believe a little thing sufficient to make them withdraw their consent to the peace settlement and turn their backs for a season upon the affairs of the world."

Might Withdraw Treaty. President Wilson in his memorandum to the allied supreme council, proposed Adriatic settlement, informed them that the United States might have to consider withdrawing the treaty of Versailles if the allies went ahead with their plans without the consent of the United States.

This statement was made officially here today with the further statement that the American position was outlined not in the nature of a threat but as a statement of fact. "Not by an act of the American government, but by an act of the British, French and Italian governments," which would place the United States in a position if it were a party to the treaty of Versailles, of subscribing through the pact to rights of sovereignty and self-determination which were opposed.

Two Pacts Inseparable. The treaty of Versailles and the Anglo-Franco-American pact considered inseparable. The question is concerned and if President Wilson should determine to withdraw the treaty of Versailles it would mean the withdrawal of the Anglo-Franco-American pact would be withdrawn at the same time, it was explained.

State department officials take the position that the French press is endeavoring through setting up a cry of threat on the part of the American government, to place the blame for the situation on the shoulders of the American government instead of on the acts of the foreign premiers where it belongs.

Didn't Consult U. S. It was reiterated that on December 9, before the American, British and French representatives had agreed upon a settlement of the Adriatic question and it was charged subsequently without consulting the United States, the allied premiers sitting at Paris adopted a new agreement which was transmitted to Ambassador Davis for the approval of the American government.

This, it was said, came as a great surprise to the American government, which sent communications to the premiers asking whether they proposed to settle the question without consulting the American government. The premiers replied they did not intend to do so, but later sent an ultimatum to Yugoslavia that unless it accepted the new settlement, the terms of the original treaty of London would be carried out.

Tone Down Reply. Paris, Feb. 17.—Although the reply of the council to the settlement of the Adriatic question, was drawn up Saturday, it has not as yet been sent, according to French press reports. Efforts are being made in certain quarters to have it toned down, the dispatches say, but all refer to the press reports from Washington, notwithstanding.

A PATRIOTIC PARTY
By Carolyn Sherwin Bailey

Why not surprise your guests at your patriotic party with some new decorations? Here are a few that will help you to begin with.

The Thrift Bag

Use red, white and blue cambric sewed in strips, broad and white, decorated with blue stars or stripes. Make the bag the size of a grab bag, and fill it with small favors, wrapped up in red, white and blue tissue paper so as to conceal their shapes. These should be inexpensive, but suggestive of thrift; shavings, little blank books, marked Bank Book, thrift stamps, toy washboards, flat irons, brooms, small cook books, and the like. Each guest will find a surprise in the bagging and perhaps a suggestion for patriotism in 1920 as well.

A Flag Pie

Fill a round tin with small favors or bags of candies, each wrapped in tissue paper, and having a ribbon attached long enough to reach from the center of the tin to each guest's place. Stuff chinks in this pie with shredded paper, cover the top with red, white and blue tissue paper, and draw the wide red, white and blue ribbons around the edge to cover up the top of the tin. Stick small flags in the top of the pie until it is covered with the colors.

At the end of the party feast, the guests will find their ribbons, of the pie, and enjoy its contents.

Table Decorations

Wrap sugar almonds in red, white and blue tissue paper, twisting the paper at the end to look like a torpedo. These may fill a basket in the center of the table, or be scattered over the white table cloth.

Quaint little soldiers can be made by cutting bodies of tarlatan in blue, just a round head, a straight body and arms and legs. Put a large pink peppermint drop inside the tarlatan head, and draw a face on it. Stuff a body with shredded blue tissue paper so that it will stand. Give the soldier a cooked hat, and a peppermint stick for a rifle. The soldiers of the regiment at each place at the party table.

French Passports Are Required in Upper Silesia

Washington, Feb. 17.—Passport rules for Upper Silesia announced here today by the French embassy, provide that French visa will be necessary to enter the country, which, under the treaty, is administered by an inter-allied commission, presidency of which has been assigned to France.

"Upper Silesians, justifying their origin and wanting to go home in order to take part in the coming plebiscite, the embassy statement said, 'must have French passports. In other cases they may receive such passports upon application.'

A FIRELESS COOKER
By G. M. Hyge

How many times has mother said that she wished she had a fireless cooker? Why not build her one?

The main part of the cooker is a strong box—a shipping box or, better yet, a home-made box. Its dimensions should be about 16 in. high, 12 in. wide, and 30 in. long. If you use a shipping box, go over it and make it tight and strong. The cracks between the boards should be as small as possible. Next build a cover of light boards, held together with cross-slats and fastened to the box with strap hinges. Fasten a rope to hold the cover in position when it is open so that it will not fall back and tear off the hinges.

For heating receptacles get two tin pails of average size. The kettles mother expects to place in the cooker should slip into the pails loosely.

The shelf (S) to hold the pails should be built of light boards and fitted snugly inside the box, about 5 in. down from the top edge, resting on some cleats. After it is in place, bend the pails to mark the size of their tops on the shelf. They will probably be about 30 in. in diameter.

INTER-CHURCH DRIVE ENDS HERE SUNDAY

Nation-wide observance of Washington's birthday which this year falls on Sunday will be made by the churches in connection with the culmination of the inter-church four-weeks campaign.

The inter-church campaign has had for its purpose the teaching of stewardship; that is, that God is the owner of all things and that man who possesses anything is but a steward accountable to God for that possession. Various methods of carrying out the campaign in the local churches are in operation.

SIDE LIGHTS on the CIRCUS BUSINESS

I have been asked so many times if we did not get on the wrong road in the wagon show days on dark nights as the baggage and the menagerie trains always left the lot about two hours ahead of the hotel people who were the last to leave town. Especially in the far west where many of the roads were only trails across the prairies, it was difficult.

In the well settled states what we called the layout wagon, which was always in the lead with the boss canvassman and two or three helpers, was always the first in the town to lay out the lot. They always carried a bunch of lathe and when they came to a town where they were to turn to the left they would always drop a lathe, one to the right and one straight ahead, which meant turn to the left. After we got in the far west where the traveled roads were few and the houses and crossroads not many, I would always get a layman to go out four or five miles and give me the bearings and the distance in which we were to travel. Then it was my business to always lay out the lot over the long trails.

On one drive of 36 miles from Seward, Neb., to David City we passed only one frame house and many dug outs but as they were all dug down on the sidehills, and on a dark night we could seldom see them. Yet as a rule, if the horses had their own way, they would almost invariably follow my carriage although I might be two or three miles ahead. There were six or seven stands that year which we drove from county seat to county seat, one being 55 miles. Although the business was big everywhere and hotel bills and feed for the animals were a show we made, yet the show cleared up more than three times its value in five months and ten days, which was certainly some business when you could turn over the value of your investment in one summer.

We opened here in Janesville May 3, and closed on the tent of October. From information received in the last two weeks it looks as though more wagon shows would start out the coming season than ever before.

New York, Feb. 6.—Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined circus will move from Bridgeport to Madison Square Garden on the night of March 20. The season opens there Thursday, March 25, if present plans carry. The engagement will cover a period of five and one-half weeks. The tent season opens in Brooklyn, with practically the same route in the eastern cities as is customary with this organization, it is generally accepted.

D. C. Hawn and Rhoda Royal of the Rhoda Royal show, recently paid a visit to Lancaster, Mo., and purchased from Col. W. B. Hahn two carloads of draft horses, some cat animals and six carloads of tableaux and cages, including Mr. Hall's famous band wagon and a 22 whistle calliope. They also recently purchased one carload of horses from the Ringling Bros. & Barnum & Bailey shows, and a carload of tableaux and cages from the Sparks shows.

The Rhoda Royal show is wintering at Valdosta, Ga., and will open its season early. The Stickney family of riders will again be a big feature.

Fred Collier of this city is equestrian director with the Rhoda Royal show, where he has been for several years. He and his wife, Rose Dixon Collier, are spending their vacation with Mrs. Collier's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Dixon, of the town of Rock. They will soon leave for the south as all performers and wagon shows will have to report to Mr. Collier.

Among the visitors at the Chicago office of The Hillboard this week were the Hanna Triplets, three charming young women who look so much alike that it would seem necessary to label them in order to tell which was which.

Young as these girls are they have established a reputation in the show world. They have been with the Hanna Bros. for many years, and the past year with the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus. At the present time they are planning a vaudeville.

Another victim of traffic in Cleveland was recorded last week when one of the most valued horses in the act, now being driven by Mr. Wirth, noted circus rider, was killed by an interurban car in the heart of the city while being taken to a train. Miss Wirth played an engagement at the Hippodrome theater. There were five horses in the troupe. Miss Wirth was on her way to Pittsburg. This is the third theatrical horse to be killed in traffic there in less than a year.

"Ideal Cabinet Woman," Is Praise
Given Wife of Secretary Meredith

WASHINGTON—Mrs. E. T. Meredith, wife of the newly appointed secretary of agriculture, is finding that her duties and responsibilities are divided about equally just now between house hunting and the social functions which in Washington are regulated with nearly if not quite as great precision as the proceedings of congress.

The extreme efficiency with which she is qualifying in both capacities is established by the fact that within the brief period since her arrival in the capital she has found a house, and that she is being described unanimously by veteran members of official and social circles as an "ideal cabinet woman."

Slender and girlish in appearance, Meredith is taking her part in the life of the capital with an interest and pleasure as frank as it is engaging. She has a charming personality, dresses smartly and in quietly perfect taste, and takes a warm interest in many things outside the social routine, though at present her days are rather too crowded to admit of much time being given to them.

The matter of finding an abiding place she found a shade less difficult than during the war period, which she spent here with her husband, who was serving as a member of the board of excess profits advisers.

Cables to China for House. "Though we had one part of the time even then, if it could be called a house," she said, "I did not have so much trouble in finding one this time, but it has been necessary to cable to China to find out if we can have the one I've found. If we can, we shall move in next week."

If not the search will be renewed in the intervals of luncheon, teas, receptions and dinners.

The official round is not a new experience to Mrs. Meredith, who became familiar with it during her previous residence here.

"At least I thought I did," she says. "But I am beginning to think that I am more than I supposed. But I am sure I shall enjoy it. I think society is especially interesting here, and I am glad to be in it."

After the war had ended, practically if not technically, the Merediths returned to the home in Dec Moines, Iowa, where Mr. Meredith resumed the business of living. They closed it again to spend this winter in Florida and were in Miami when Mr. Meredith received his appointment to the cabinet.

They will be joined soon by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick O. Bohen, who will come over from New York, where Mr. Bohen is taking a course in Columbia university, to spend the week-end with them.

WITH THE WOMEN OF TODAY

French political circles recently received somewhat of a jolt when a woman was given a place in one of the ministries. It is a novelty in France for a woman to hold a public office and, of course, there are those politicians of the old school who can not become reconciled to the new order of things. It is a very petite and pretty and very young little Frenchwoman who has been appointed to the ministry of the marine.

She is Mlle. Landry, daughter of the French ambassador to the marine, and she was given a position in the secretariat of the ministry of the marine by her father. Her appointment is causing considerable stir in Paris, although she is considered extremely capable. In preparation for her new duties she has taken degrees in philosophy and law.

FIRST TO HOLD POSITION

Mlle. Landry, appointed a member of the staff of the minister of marine in France, is the first woman in that country to occupy such a position. She holds the degree of doctor of laws and doctor of philosophy.

WOMEN WOULD BEAT H. C. L.

Mrs. Charles G. Ryan, head of the State Economy league, formed at the request of the governor, and following a state conference of club women has asked $50,000 Nebraska women to promise to obey the orders of their commander in chief on what not but business.

The pledge each is asked to sign reads: "I, I shall purchase nothing which is offered at excessive prices, but will content myself with some other article or do without."

"I shall plan a careful budget this year or keep a careful record of expenditures."

"I shall not consider it necessary to follow the whims of the hour, but buy when necessary, for service and economy."

"I shall help other women in this movement to set standards of the future."

The Daily Novelette

GONE FOREVER.

The scene was one of blissful domestic peace. The children weren't around.

Suddenly the air was rent with howls and shrieks, seemingly from the nursery.

Mrs. Jigbee Quilts dashed from the room and found her oldest angel, Rollin, beating up the youngest cherub, Wiggley.

"Stop! Stop! I say!" she cried. "You little imp!"

Being a modern mother, she was business first and pleasure afterwards.

So she grabbed Rollin by the wide part of his trousers and laid some good smart whacks on the same.

"Now, you may tell me what you were trying to kill Wiggley for," she said, after Rollin's sobs had subsided.

"Why, he-he he-cause—because—because—"

Rollin in the eye.
"Because he's got my marbles, that's why!" blurted out Rollin, defiantly.

"Well, that's nothing to hurt him for. All you had to do was to tell me. I'd fix it all up."

"What a good would that do?" "Because if they were your marbles, I'd make him give them back."

"How can he? He's swallowed 'em. Nine of 'em. My purple shooter, a cat's paw."

In her excitement the frantic mother called up the undertaker instead of the doctor and promptly fainted when he arrived.

LEIERS FOR OPPRESSORS.
Two Russian bolsheviks are apt to gain undeserved credit for assisting the Koreans in their effort to elect their Japanese oppressors. Oppression is the game of the bolshevik and they are willing to go to any length to attain their objects. They are not concerned about Korea's claim to independence, but they are much interested in combating Japan, wherever they can because that country has been one of the obstacles to their carrying out all their plans in Siberia.

How much assistance the bolshevik can give the Korean nationalists does not appear, but they have been able to stimulate the latter action that is causing alarm in Japan. Having been successful in early attacks upon occupying forces, the revolt is spreading. Probably it will be no hard thing for the Japanese to beat down the rebellion against their rule, but for a while the cost of keeping the Koreans in subjection will be greatly increased. Moreover, the news of the Korean uprising will spread and will encourage China to increase its resistance to Japan. Thus the troubles of the eastern member of the five principal allied and associated powers in preserving the weak nations of the earth against aggressions of powerful but unprincipled governments will be much augmented. Indeed, peace for Japan would seem to be something of a dream.

However, the trend of official European sentiment toward the Russian bolshevik will prove helpful to Japan. Peace with the bolsheviks will be made on a basis of mutual advantage. It might pay Japan to agree to withdraw entirely from Siberia in exchange for pledges by Lenin that no more aid, moral or material, would be given by the bolshevik to the Koreans and Chinese.

That would leave the oppressed peoples in a state where they might be taught to endure the incurable conditions forced upon them.

DELAY MAKES FOR TROUBLE.
Whatever sentiment in Germany may be with respect to the allies' demand for the surrender of war criminals, there can be no question as to what it will be if an end is not swiftly made of the argument between Paris and Berlin. Every day that passes with fresh exchanges in the controversy there is generated in Germany new bitterness that will endure. The delay has made opportunity for Frederick William Hohenzollern, former crown prince, to dispatch a letter to allied capitals which will cause a most unfavorable reaction in Germany. "If the allies demand a victim," he says, he stands ready to present himself for execution. It is a subtle appeal to the German people to repudiate their obligation under the treaty and resist the just demands that war criminals be brought to trial and punishment.

Frederick William Hohenzollern pretends to offer himself as a sacrifice through which some 800 other German wretches might be spared. In reality he designs to create such a protest against the surrender of any Germans that his own neck will be saved. If any are given up he will not go over the border, presuming, of course, that he might bring himself under the jurisdiction of the German government. What he accomplishes in his letter will be harmful to the allies. The impression will grow in Germany that it is victims of revenge, not culprits to meet justice, that the allies seek. All this should be remedied. If the allies have power to get the wanted Germans, let them waste no more words, but act within their rights. If their demands are not enforced, which nobody believes to be the case, it were better to drop the whole subject.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE.
Of the presidential candidates to appear thus far in the horizon, who have really avowed their intention of making the race, Leonard Wood, from a casual inspection, offers much of real personal value. His record as a thorough executive has been demonstrated on numerous occasions; as governor general of Cuba, in the Philippines and more recently in the United States, he gave concrete evidence of his thoroughness and complete grasp of big affairs. He is not a militarist in the sense of riding a hobby, and represents the type of Americanism which Theodore Roosevelt left as a heritage.

Leonard Wood has not yet assumed the proportion of a big national figure, but he seems to be gathering force, and out of the tangle of present conditions, may emerge with a well defined message.

As a dark horse and a strong man, Herbert Hoover's entrance into the limelight of presidential possibilities will be watched with considerable interest. Mr. Hoover thus far is tied by no strings and his independence of action is commendable.

Congress having failed to provide increases in salary in the diplomatic corps, Americans who call on our representatives abroad will know the reason if they are not invited for dinner.

HOME AND THE OFFICE.

Home is the place where the laughter should ring, And man should be found at his best. Let the cares of the day be as light as a feather, So stand at the door when the tolling is o'er And leave all your burdens behind, And just be a dad to your girl or your lad— A dad of the rollicking kind.

The office is made for the tasks you must face, It is built for the work you must do; You may sit there and sigh as your cares pile up, high, And no one may criticize you; You may worry and fret as you think of your debt, You may grumble when plans go astray, But when it comes night, and you shut your desk tight, Don't carry the burdens away.

Keep daytime for toll and the nighttime for play, Work as hard as you choose in this town, But when the day ends, and the darkness descends, Just forget that you're wearing a frown. Go home with a smile! Oh, you'll find it worth while. Go home, and be glad that you're loved as a dad, A dad of the fun-loving kind.

Shall Women Smoke?

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN, Director

Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C.

Washington, Feb. 17.—What may prove to be the most bitter battle in the war against the use of tobacco in the United States—particularly as applied to women—has just been waged here in the newly organized Women's City Club.

More than two thousand representative women of the national capital being met in the city, the club has just including wives of cabinet members, women of congressional circles, and prominent professional and society women. Their club is housed in a beautiful residence overlooking Lafayette square, just across from the White House. At one time during the war the executive mansion the present club was the temporary home of former President Roosevelt and family.

Immediately upon the opening of the clubhouse in November previous was brought to bear upon the board of directors for permission, not only for the masculine guests of the club, but for the members themselves to enjoy this privilege. It was suggested that a smoking room be furnished where the members could indulge themselves with a puff at their favorite fag.

Room Allocated for Smokers.
In response to the demand the board gave directions for the furnishing of suitable quarters for the smokers, suggesting that the room be on the third floor as the prospective smoking room. The furnishings were purchased and a notice posted in the club house to the effect that in accordance with the wishes of the members the smoking room would be opened within a short time. The notice was heard by members who gasped and exclaimed—and then the battle was on.

"Outrageous," declared Mrs. E. M. Shelton, president of the District of Columbia Women's Christian Temperance Union. "I am simply amazed that they should have such a thing as a smoking room in a club where the members are so devoted to the cause of prohibition."

"It is unwomanly," declared Mrs. M. J. Wood, former president of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs. "Smoking is to be recommended neither for men nor for women. I am sure the majority of the members will oppose it."

"I believe in letting women do as they please," was the retort of the opposition, voiced by Mrs. Mina C. Van Winkle, head of the Women's Bureau of the District of Columbia Police department and prominent in social work among women. "If they want to smoke, let 'em. I do not, but it is because I do not like to see a woman who is going to be either a kindergarten or a Sunday school, I shall send in my resignation," declared one of the members, who were devoted to the cause.

Argument Waxed Hot.
For two months the argument between the opposing factions waxed hot and furious, until the harried board of directors decided to put the matter to a vote, settling the question in January of this year. The meeting was well attended. Friends and enemies of the lady nicotine turned out in full force. The result was a narrow vote, and the club was divided into two camps, one for and one against a final decision was postponed until another meeting in February.

At the February meeting the smokers were instructed to complete the preparation for the smoking room. But despite the settlement, the club was divided into two camps, one for and one against a final decision was postponed until another meeting in February.

Cardinals Play Fairies Tonight in Third Clash

BELOIT CONFIDENT AND LOOKS FOR A TURN OF FORTUNE

TODAY'S LINEUP

Cardinals
Tilley ..... Demond
Phillips ..... Williams
Tranton ..... Brown
Witte ..... Dalton
Gharrett ..... Spangler

It is expected that Weiss may be with the Cardinals tonight, but this is not certain. The Fairies have Zabel and Woods for utility men.

In what condition are the Fairies for tonight's game? Here's the report as it comes from the Windmill:

The Fairies are hitting on all four and at the final practice yesterday afternoon perfected a few new stunts to confound the Cardinals. It is expected that a fancy clip and if Janesville comes through with a third victory the men from the county seat will have to play faster and better basketball than they have ever done before.

Cumms Stronger
If Beloit is hitting on all four, Janesville is hitting on all twelve. There is no need of trying to dope the situation. The facts are that since the last game the Cardinals have been serious in determining the better team, both teams have played two games. The Fairbanks bunch have split with their teams, the Cardinals have taken both. In addition the teams which the Lakotas went up against were much stronger than the matter of basketball playing and all-around work.

The line city five is determined to break Janesville's winning streak. They have considerably added to the strength of their aggregation in taking on Tranton, the Notre Dame whelming. On the other hand, it appears that he is too fast for McCarthy's men, hurling the ball so rapidly that they cannot lay on to it. Along this line, it will be remembered that it was Janesville's superior speed and ability to make great things of it that gave the Cardinals Reports coming from Beloit say that the Fairies team is out trying to get more material from the ranks of the professionals to make their team one composed of "wizards."

Sending Arrangements
Despite the request of Janesville for a few additional seats to what were provided at Beloit at the last game, those in charge of accommodations will be provided for about 200 Janesville fans, and at least that number have already made arrangements to go down. The entire west side of the gymnasium has been set aside for the rooters from this city. The doors will open at 7:15. It is expected that the biggest crowd to attend a basketball game in year will be on hand to rush for the opening. Little and Schmitt will referee the game, alternating as umpire.

SPLITS IN SCORES IN I-C BOWLING

BRINGING UP FATHER

As You Were

By BUCK.
Of the Stars and Stripes A. E. P.

HOME AGAIN!

It was Britany and war-time; night was falling.
On the barracks that Napoleon had built.
Where a crowd of home-sick, rooky Yanks were sprawling,
While a banjo tugged their memories with its lilt.
Soon it softened to a melody so mellow.
That it seemed to sweep the stars from out the skies,
And I saw a lanky, grim, young fellow
Turn as it hid the player from his eyes.

"...through the fields I used to roam,
When I dream about the moonlight
On the Wabash,
Then I long for my Indiana home."

With the picture, camp and barrack quickly faded.
And I saw him gaily trudging
Home from chores,
From the silo to the farm-house,
Wind-break shaded,
Up the roadway past the waving
Sycamores,
Gone the troop-train's rush, the
Transport's stench and riot,
Strange companions, herded in a stranger land, and my University
It was evening, with the home-folks and the quiet
And the talk a farmer-lad could understand.

"...through the fields I used to roam,
When I think about the moonlight
On the Wabash,
Then I long for my Indiana home."

Then I saw the dreaming soldier slowly turning,
Saw him brush his coat-sleeve
Quickly past his eyes,
And I listened for his lips to voice
his yearning
As he touched a buddy and began
Now his simple face is brightened by a smile and
I hear him as the wistful banjo
"We danced to dat, 'most every night at Coney,—
Me and me gail, Say kid, dat skot kin waltz!"

If the Antis do away with tobacco,
Inquires Beauty, the ex-Canteen Queen, what will our allies in the next war do for cigarettes?

A VOICE FROM THE DEPTHS
"Now, but the brave," declares an American statesman more familiar with the classics than with General stuffs, deserves the medal.
We will not dispute him, but we rise to declare that this country is very shy of medals. We haven't enough. Take the D. S. C., for instance. Just how it's awarded, I worked. Not only must it go to a lot of men who did nothing more than take the short end of 50 to 1 chance with death to save a comrade or a machine-gun or something, but it has to be used to satisfy a lot of officers who suffered through a most disturbingly war, and I'm sure, surprised officers, shifted from one side to another, often right up with in a few hundred miles of the front itself.

And even then hundreds are left out. Of course, we can't expect a lot of line officers and doughboys and such to be decorated just because they risk or lose their lives in a battle. Half the time they don't take the trouble to have a war-correspondent, or a regimental historian on hand, to record their bravery.
They can't expect anything more than their disability.

But staff officers! Think what they've gone through! Here they were leading the lives of country gentlemen, two horses and a valet that couldn't quit, and a place in (Army) society that no one could dispute—openly—and along comes a war!

There ought to be more medals.

Let the men who see action have the D. S. C., the D. S. M., and the like, but let's get a nice big, shiny star for the rest, at least, it would make White House receptions much more decorative.

MONROE LOOKS GOOD TO WIN WHITEWATER BASKETBALL MEET

Monroe high school rules as the most likely winner of the White-water high school basketball tournament to be held at the court of the Whitewater Normal March 4, 5 and 6. The excellent record of the Green county team, with only one loss during the entire season, and scores made against its opponents running sometimes double in number of points and several times over 50, seems to give it a strong hold on others according to the dope.

Whitewater's victory over the cheese boys last week, gives that team slightly the advantage from victory's standpoint, but from all available data, Whitewater has not played the consistent ball that Monroe boasts.

Blues Good for Second
Where Janesville stands is a question. The Blues have played wonderfully after overcoming their poor start. They have six wins to their credit as against three defeats.

From the great style which they are showing in the taking of easy and playing defensive ball in the first half and opening with rushing offense in the second, they stand as excellent chance of at least taking second place. The snatching attacks of the Blues are of a kind that bewilder the enemy and as University high said here last Friday night, "Those fellows are using stuff we cannot get around."

Janesville has defeated Milton Junction, Port Atkinson, Evansville, and Wisconsin high, teams which will appear in the meet, thus giving the locals the edge on them. Lake Geneva and Delavan showed up in poor style at the Beloit tournament last week, and thus would appear to be all-out.

More Doping
Milton high school lost to Whitewater, Jefferson lost to Milton, all of which gives Whitewater another feather in its cap.

Stoughton defeated University high and Janesville beat the Badger Preps, thus an advantage to Janesville.

Edgerton, Elkhorn, Waterloo, Oregon, Palmyra and Ball River are playing a good ball, but none is thought to be in the class with Monroe, Whitewater or Janesville.

MONROE TEAM TO TAKE LONG TRIP
(By Staff Correspondent)
Monroe, Feb. 17.—Monroe high school will leave here Thursday afternoon on one of the longest trips on record for a prep school team going to Marinette, a distance of more than 500 miles. The game will be played Friday night. It has been arranged through P. D. Newman, formerly principal for two years of Monroe, but now head of Marinette.

Marinette is undefeated. It has played strong teams of Northern Wisconsin, including Green Bay, Superior, Rhineland, and Wausau. Arthur Chambers, student manager, and Coach Sievert, of the Monroe team will go along.

It is expected that the local boys will play at either Fond du Lac or Oshkosh Saturday on the return trip. Fond du Lac was state high school champion last year.

50 HIGH SCHOOLS IN OSHKOSH MEET
Oshkosh, Feb. 17.—About fifty high schools of this part of the state have been invited to enter the sectional basketball tournament to be held at the Oshkosh Normal school March 4, 5, 6. Of this number eight schools will be chosen for the final contest. The winning team of the section will be sent to the state tournament at Madison, March 18, 19, 20, to play games from seven other sectional tournaments, namely, at Platteville, Milwaukee, Stevens Point, La Crosse, East Chaire, Superior, and River Falls. It looks now as if the sectional honors would center on either Oshkosh, Fond du Lac, Neenah, or Appleton.

Rolls 736; Making New Pin Record

Manitowoc, Feb. 17.—Piling up a total of 736 pins, said to be a world's record, Walter Swift of Milwaukee, went into the lead by a wide margin in the singles event at the annual state bowling tournament here Sunday. The total is the highest ever of a bowler at either a state or national tournament, the previous record being 718, held by H. Cavan, Pittsburgh, and made last year.

BANK FOR CUNARD LINER
New York.—With the departure of the liner Imperator from Southampton on February 21 for New York, the Cunard Line will inaugurate the experiment of having a ship's boy to change money for passengers and transact general financial business during the voyage.

FIGHT DECISIONS

Philadelphia—Willie Jackson defeated Jack Russo in 6 rounds.
Detroit—Battling Levinsky won the newspaper decision over Clay Turner in 10 rounds.

New Record Mark For Motocycling

Daytona, Fla., Feb. 17.—Certified world's motorcycle records were established on the bench here on Sunday by L. E. Parkhurst for the one, two and five mile and one kilometer distances. The mile event, made in 34.37 seconds, or at a rate of 108.1 miles an hour, brought this record back from Australia, where it stood at 35 seconds flat, 1921, unless under the contract or with the consent of Cochran.

COCHRAN HOLDS TO BIG FIGHT REINS

New York, Feb. 17.—Charles B. Cochran, English theatrical promoter, continues to hold the upper hand in the contest for the Dempsey-Carpenter world's championship bout. Somewhat annoyed by recent announcements that a representative of William Fox is on his way to Europe to sign the French champion and a report that Tex Rickard has the bout virtually sewed up, William A. Brady came to the front on Monday with details. Mr. Brady, who managed Jim Corbett and Jim Jeffries years ago, is the American representative of Cochran, and he declares that no bout can be staged before Feb. 15, 1921, unless under the contract or with the consent of Cochran.

WRESTLER HERE LOOKING FOR BOUTS

Henry Stoeff, 165 pound wrestler of Dubuque, Ia., a new addition to the Du Pont force here, is feeling out the sentiment in Janesville on wrestling. Yesterday he dropped into the office of the Gazette and said that after he finds his bearings and gets into shape he will probably take on a few corners.

It is expected that Stoeff will give an exhibition of his prowess in a week or so for the local Moose club. He comes here from Madison where for some time he has been boxing instructor at the Y. M. C. A. there.

While in the Capital city, the mat expert, a clean, well-appearing young fellow, says that he met Elmer Saunders, Ashland, and held him for an hour and five minutes despite the fact that he was outweighed 40 pounds. Previously Saunders had made a go with "Strangler" Lewis for an hour and 20 minutes and stayed with Stocher, now champion of the United States, for 15 minutes before being thrown.

In his last bout, Stoeff says that he severely injured his right shoulder and for that reason has been forced to keep out of the game for a little while. Arrangements are now being made to book him with Jack Williams, a 155-pounder of Norwalk, Wis., whose challenge Stoeff accepts.

STANISLAU ZBYSZKO REACHES AMERICA

New York, Feb. 17.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, the Polish wrestler, who claims the world's title at the Graeco-Roman style and was second only to the late Frank Gotch, the catch-as-catch-can champion, six years ago, arrived here Sunday on the Danish steamer, Oscar II.

Zbyszko, who was interned in Russia for over four years, returns here to challenge for the title now held by Joe Stetker.
